Letter From the Dean

Jesus said, "I am with you always, to the end of the ages." (Matt 28:20)

As Jesus prepared to ascend into heaven, he looked at his disciples, some of whom it said doubted, and assured them he would always be present. A seeming contradiction, we spend a lifetime learning how that could be so. How is the resurrected Lord, the one ascended into heaven, still present? And how comforting to know that even the first disciples had their doubts. "I have seen the Lord," Mary Magdalene said. He was the Jesus she knew and yet did not recognize at first. We too don't recognize the Christ in one another unless we learn to look with resurrected, renewed, eyes. To see as Christ sees is the work of our community, to love as Christ loves, the soul of our community. Not something I can do alone, because I will only see the Christ I want to see, in the old familiar places. Together we learn to be surprised! Join us this month in Dean's Forum as we learn together to proclaim, "I have seen the Lord!"

Grace and Peace,

The Very Rev. Anne M. Maxwell, Dean
